Highest Quality Online Private Instruction. Utilizing some of the best technologies available along with effective proven methods of Instruction for guitar. Students will have a 90 min requirement for instruction per week that can be flexibly scheduled into 20, 30, 45, 60 or any length sessions over the course of the week. This is to ensure students are at their peak level of cooperation during any lesson and are fully engaged with the lesson content from start to finish. There will be an open schedule that students can reserve times at the start of the week and times can be modified during the week. Professional experienced one to one instruction.

Open Forums for students to interact with one another through learning assignments. Students will be given tasks to complete that require working together and communicating amongst themselves. Students will be grouped according to age and interests. Assignments may include listening assignments, music history research, sharing recording projects and other music related collaborations. Open forums will be monitored.

Open Classes will be set times when students can join or leave freely intended develop essential musicianship skills, including Sight Reading, Solfeggio, Ear Training, and basic harmony without stress. Open Classes will have an instructor.

Practice halls will be virtual rooms where students can log into and fulfill practice requirements. Practice room will include a timer access to music scores and will be monitored. Students will be expected to fulfill a required amount of practice time weekly.

Intermittent Live lessons and Ensembles may be arranged when and where it appears it can be done safely. There may be a chance that such gatherings could be held in an outdoor space this summer or even a space that is safely configured to allow for a live session. I have heard WeWork and a couple of other space rental places have been working towards creating such offerings? My hope is to put together something permanent in the near future.

After School fall 2020. With so much uncertainty about public and private schools this coming fall I will try to continue this format into the fall. I believe the flexible scheduling and open ended format may help students maintain their involvement and provide them with an activity that may even include some tutoring in other academic disciplines.
